WRITTEN OBJECTION AND PETITION FOR HEARING
UNDER SECTIONS 4 AND 9 OF THE PREVAILING WAGE ACT

The National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter submits this written objection to the prevailing rate of wages for the classifications of Communication Technician and Electrician and for the absence of a “C” class for the classifications of Communication Technician and Electrician certified by the Illinois Department of Labor effective July 15, 2026 and requests a hearing pursuant to Section 9 of the Illinois Prevailing Wage Act to clarify the published rates within the jurisdictional boundaries of its shared jurisdiction with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local Union 364.

The National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter seeks to clarify the wages so that they are accurately reflected in the wages on the Illinois Department of Labor’s website as those set forth in the collective bargaining agreements between the National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter and International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local Union 364. The affected counties are all of Winnebago County, Stephenson County, Boone County, Ogle County and parts of Lee County, DeKalb County, JoDaviess County, Carroll County and Whiteside County.

820 ILCS Section 4 establishes how a prevailing wage rate is to be determined:

“Sec. 4. Ascertaining prevailing wage.

(a) The prevailing rate of wages paid to individuals covered under this Act shall not be less than the rate that prevails for work of a similar character on public works in the locality in which the work is performed under collective bargaining agreements or understandings between employers or employer associations and bona fide labor organizations relating to each craft or type of worker or mechanic needed to execute the contract or perform such work, and collective bargaining agreements or understandings successor thereto, provided that said employers or members of said employer associations employ at least 30% of the laborers, workers, or mechanics in the same trade or occupation in the locality where the work is being performed.

(b) If the prevailing rates of wages and fringe benefits cannot reasonably and fairly be applied in any locality because no such agreements or understandings exist, the Department of Labor shall determine the rates and fringe benefits for the same or most similar work in the nearest and most similar neighboring locality in which such agreements or understandings exist. The Department of Labor shall keep a record of its findings available for inspection by any interested party in the office of the Department of Labor.

(c) In the event it is determined, after a written objection is filed and hearing is held in accordance with Section 9 of this Act, that less than 30% of the laborers, workers, or mechanics in a particular trade or occupation in the locality where the work is performed receive a collectively bargained rate of wage, then the average wage paid to such laborers, workers, or mechanics in the same trade or occupation in the locality for the 12-month period preceding the Department of Labor's annual determination shall be the prevailing rate of wage.”

820 ILCS Section 9 establishes how the Department of Labor is to “effectuate the purpose and policy” of the Act:

“Sec. 9. To effectuate the purpose and policy of this Act the Department of Labor shall, during the month of June of each calendar year, investigate and ascertain the prevailing rate of wages for each county in the State and shall publish the prevailing wage schedule ascertained on its official website no later than July 15 of each year. If the prevailing rate of wages is based on a collective bargaining agreement, any increases directly ascertainable from such collective bargaining agreement shall also be published on the website. Further, if the prevailing rate of wages is based on a collective bargaining agreement, the explanation of classes on the prevailing wage schedule shall be consistent with the classifications established under the collective bargaining agreement.

At any time within 30 days after the Department of Labor has published on its official web site a prevailing wage schedule, any person affected thereby may object in writing to the determination or such part thereof as they may deem objectionable by filing a written notice with the Department of Labor stating the specified grounds of the objection. A person filing an objection alleging that the actual percentage of laborers, workers, or mechanics that receive a collectively bargained rate of wage is below the required 30% shall have the burden of establishing such and shall support the allegation with competent evidence. During the pendency of any objection and until final determination thereof, the work in question shall proceed under the rate established by the Department. It shall be the duty of the Department of Labor to set a date for a hearing on the objection after giving written notice to the objectors at least 10 days before the date of the hearing and said notice shall state the time and place of such hearing. Such hearing by the Department of Labor shall be held within 45 days after the objection is filed, and shall not be postponed or reset for a later date except upon the consent, in writing, of all the objectors and the Department of Labor.”

The National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter is an industry trade group representing multiple employers in collective bargaining with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local Union 364 in the electrical and telecommunications industries. We represent over 250 employers which employ more than 1,300 electricians and more than 450 technicians and employee approximately 92% of electrical industry employment in our jurisdiction.

Given that The National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter represents employers employing significantly more than 30% of the electrical industry employment in its jurisdiction, the “prevailing rate of wages...shall not be less than the rate that prevails for work of a similar character on public works in the locality in which the work is performed under [its] collective bargaining agreements or understandings...in the same trade or occupation in the locality where the work is being performed.” Thus, our collective bargaining agreements or understandings are the prevailing wage rates.

The Department of Labor is to “investigate and ascertain the prevailing rate of wages for each county in the State and shall publish the prevailing wage schedule ascertained on its official website...” “...if the prevailing rate of wages is based on a collective bargaining agreement, the explanation of classes on the prevailing wage schedule shall be consistent with the classifications established under the collective bargaining agreement.”

The Department of Labor violated Section 4 by not thoroughly investigating and ascertaining the prevailing wages or by providing an explanation of classes on the prevailing wage schedule. Such schedule is to be consistent with the classifications established within the collective bargaining agreements between the National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter and International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local Union 364.

A thorough investigation would reflect more than simply Communication Technician and Electrician trade titles on the Department of Labor's published prevailing wage schedule.

The collective bargaining agreements between the National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter and International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local Union 364 contain specific wages and benefits to be paid to other classifications that are "above" and "below" the published classifications for work performed "of a similar character on public works in the locality in which the work is performed under [its] collective bargaining agreements or understandings...in the same trade or occupation in the locality where the work is being performed."

The Department of Labor has the collective bargaining agreement between the National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter and International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local Union 364. The Department of Labor chose to only publish the trade titles of Communication Technician and Electrician and ignore all other classifications.

Per Section 9, the National Electrical Contractors Association, Northern Illinois Chapter hereby files this objection in a timely manner.

Respectfully submitted,
